GOSHEN COLLEGE—To be reopened with full and competent faculty, with College, Bible, and Academy courses, September, 1924. S. C. Yoder, President, Noah Oyer, Dean, C. L. Graber, Business Manager. For information address S. C. Yoder, Kalona, Iowa.

INTRODUCTION

What is an introduction?

That depends on who is talking and what he is talking about.

If a stranger comes to our house with an old acquaintance of ours we rather expect the old acquaintance to give us an introduction to the stranger or to give the stranger an introduction to us. That is one sense in which the word is used.

A boy once defined the introduction to a book as the part at the beginning which nobody reads. Perhaps he was right.

Do you read an introduction?

If not, you can stop right here and quit reading, for the rest of this page is of no interest to you.

You have probably guessed by this time that I am making an honest effort to write an introduction that at least some people will read. I would like to spoil that boy's definition of an introduction to a book.

I was reading the introduction to a German book to my wife the other day. It told a great many things that were of interest, but they were not exactly the things we wanted to know just at that moment, and the real things the book talked about seemed much more attractive to us, so she voiced my sentiment by saying, "Let's skip that and go on to the book."

But all that is introductory to the Introduction. If you have read thus far, please do read a little farther and get what I took all this time to impress on you, the need of an introduction.

We attempt to give a general view of the work of our people during the past year, and a list of persons and places most of interest to the active workers of the Church at the time this book is printed, so as to form a reliable book of reference for another year. That is why we have called the book a Year Book.

And you may find some mistakes in the book. I know that there are some mistakes—no "may" about that—but the element of doubt is as to whether you will find them.

And why should we print the book when we know there are mistakes?

For the simple reason that you—yes, actually you—some of you at least, have sent in "information" that contradicts itself.

A man in whose ability for accuracy I have the most perfect confidence did the work of compiling the returns for the directory part of the book.

One time he looked really troubled. He said to me, "What shall I do here? One man reports thus, the other man reports thus, and a third man reports thus, all different."

And I just said what you would have said, "I don't know!"

We'll depend on you again for information next year, if we are spared.

Be sure you tell us if you find mistakes. If you stop by telling your neighbors it will not help next year's Year Book. Tell us.

And be very sure you know what is right, before you attempt to correct the mistake. Don't forget that we do not know whether "J. Smith," "J. X. Smith," "John Smith," and "John X. Smith" are one man or four men. Be sure you make such matters plain.

And will you also remember to give us the post office address of those you tell about. I cannot forget the case of one man whose address was given at a post office that has been abandoned as a post office for more than thirty years!

And last of all, don't forget that our Year Book is what you make it.

A YEAR OF SERVICE

Work of the Mennonite Church in 1923

Daniel Kauffman

The year 1923 marks a time of great activity on the part of practically all the evangelical churches. Reviewing the record of the Mennonite Church during this time, the efforts put forth would at least come up to the average of the past decade. Our work has not been without hindrances, and the results not always what we would have liked to see, but taking all things together, we feel that our praises are due an all-wise Providence and ever loving Father for His sustaining grace and for the many unmerited favors enjoyed at His bountiful hands.

One of the gratifying things connected with the work during the past year is the unusually large number of converts to the Christian faith and life. Exact figures are not available, but a careful study of the reports of continued meetings and of baptismal services, as they appeared in the columns of the Gospel Herald from time to time, convinces us that in the Lancaster conference district alone there have been no less than a thousand accessions to the Church, with a corresponding increase in membership in many other parts of the field. It is but just to say, however, that not all of our congregations or conferences can report a similar increase. As God leads, their day of growth may come later.

The fact of the increase noted above reminds us that unusual efforts have been put forth along evangelistic lines. It may be, as we sometimes think, that the day of evangelism is past, and that the real evangelists among us are "few and far between;" but when we remember that during the past year nearly a hundred of our ministers were away from home two weeks or more holding continued meetings, assisting in Bible conference work, or otherwise engaged in work that can be considered evangelistic, and that among these about a score were out continuously enough that merit the name, "evangelist," we feel that the work is not altogether neglected after all. Continued meetings were held in every month of the year, neither the heat of harvest time nor the cold of winter interfering seriously with the progress of the work. Churches in many places have been strengthened, the work of enemies of the faith has been counteracted, and the Church is encouraged to continue the work of the Lord with increased energy and zeal.

Commendable zeal is manifest in the mission and charitable work of the Church. The annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, held near Amboy, Ind., in May, was an inspiration to the body of earnest workers in attendance. During the year we have sent two mission workers to India, and four to South America. A mission property has been purchased at Trenque Lauquen, Argentina, substantial steps are being taken looking to the purchase of another mission property at Santa Rosa, and contributions to India have enabled the workers there to continue the work of completing several new churches in the vicinity of Dhamtari. One of the regrettable things in connection with the work in India is the fact that Bro. and Sister Warye were compelled to return to America because of the condition of Sister Warye's health.

Coming to our home land, we find a repetition of the experiences of other years in the matter of things to encourage and things to discourage. Mission life is a continual struggle with the forces of sin on one hand, and the inertia of some Christian people on the other. But the Lord has been with us, on the whole the work is moving forward, and the transfer of energy occasioned by varying fortunes in the several fields will, we trust, be turned to good account in the work of the future. The Twenty-sixth Street Mission in Chicago has been turned over to the Mission Board of the Central Illinois Mennonite Conference. The Youngstown Mission has been closed, and the labors of the workers there transferred to other fields. Many are the prayers that this work will again revive. New buildings have been erected, or are in the process of erection, at Columbia, Pa., Norristown, Pa., Kansas City, Kans., Wichita, Kans., and improvements have been made at other places. A new Old People's Home has been completed at Maugansville, Md. The work of our relief commissions has continued during the year, with decreasing contributions as we are getting farther removed from the terrible War which called these organizations into being.

The year has seen a struggle along educational lines. What we hope and pray may prove to be but the proverbially dark hour before the dawning of a brighter day is the present closed state of Goshen College. But full arrangements are being made for the reopening of Goshen College in September, 1924, and the work looking forward to this end is progressing as rapidly as circumstances will permit. With the commendable records being made at Hesston and Harrisonburg, with the prospects rising at Goshen, we are looking forward with hope of our three educational institutions—Goshen College, Hesston College and Bible School, and Eastern Mennonite School!—making a record that gives evidence of growth, of unity of purpose and action, and capacity to look after the educational interests of our young people.

We would not tell the whole story of our educational efforts if we failed to tell of the increasing number of short Bible schools, ranging in time from three to six weeks, held with congregations in convenient districts. Through conferences or other agencies arrangements were made last year for the holding of such meetings, which during the months of January and February, 1924, were held at the following places: Kitchener, Ont.; Johnstown, Pa.; Hubbard and Albany, Oreg.; Kenmare, N. Dak.; Schickley, Neb.; Pigeon, Mich.; Columbia, Pa. Special Bible terms were also held in Hesston College and Bible School and in Eastern Mennonite School.

Our Publication interests have maintained their usual status during the year. A change took place on the editorial staff of the Christian Monitor, Bro. Vernon Smucker, the editor, retired and accepted the editorship of the Christian Exponent, and Bro Clayton F. Derstine, is now serving as editor of the Monitor. The Mennonitische Rundschau and the Christliche Jugendfreund have been moved to Winnipeg, Man., where they are now being published. A number of new books have been published during the year, and the usual growth of the business of the House, including the growth in the subscription lists of the Gospel Herald, Christian Monitor, and others of our periodicals, has been maintained. Our prayers continue to ascend to the end that both the quantity and quality of the work done by the House and its influence for the strengthening of the cause of Christ and the Church may continue to grow. Will you join us in this prayer?

One of the notable meetings held by the Church during the year was the biennial meeting of the Mennonite General Conference at Waterloo, Ont., during the latter part of August. These Church-wide gatherings, always interesting and uplifting, furnish no more striking example of loyalty to the cause of Christ and the Church, devotion to the highest welfare of our people, and painstaking care that the "ancient landmarks" which our fathers have set might be maintained than the Waterloo meeting. Once or twice have we had larger attendances, but never a more even representation of the brotherhood in all parts of the field. We believe that the influence of this meeting had much to do to set the pace of progress on the part of the Church in our work since that time. Long may the General Conference function as a powerful factor in holding us together and pushing us forward as a solid Church built upon a solid Gospel platform.

"What hath God wrought?" Certainly nothing that we have done is worth mentioning, save as we were moved by the Spirit of God to do what we have done. Our achievements have been small, our work might have been greater and more effective—and by the grace of God will be greater and more effective as we rise on wings of faith, become more completely separated from the world and correspondingly more devoted to God, and give God a greater, better chance to work through us and for Him. Let 1924 be a record of loyal devotion to Him, of unselfish service in His cause, of witnessing for Him as He directs and opportunity comes our way.

A BRIEF SURVEY OF THE WORK OF THE MISSION BOARD DURING 1923

J. S. Shoemaker

Another year with its momentous opportunities and responsibilities has come to a close. The work accomplished for Christ and His cause, and that which was left undone because of neglect or otherwise, has all been recorded by an unseen hand upon the pages of past history. As we enter the threshold of another year and look back over the one that has just closed, we certainly have many things to be grateful for and should render praises to Him who thru the Holy Spirit hath directed His work in the Church during the past year.

In taking a retrospective view of the past year we are made conscious of the fact that our field of labor is becoming more and more extensive and opportunities for greater accomplishments along mission and charitable lines both in home and foreign field are constantly presenting themselves to the Board, hence the responsibilities of our work are greatly multiplying. The work of the Board has greatly increased and much that is encouraging has been accomplished during the past year, nevertheless much has been left undone because of a lack of workers and funds, which are two great essentials in extending the mission activities both at home and abroad.

We herewith briefly call attention to a few points relative to our mission activities during the past twelve months, which may be of interest to the reader.

The Executive Committee held ten meetings during the year, continuing two days each. The Mission Committee met conjointly with the Executive Committee in two of said meetings. The volume of business transacted in those committee meetings was much greater than during any previous year.

I. The Home Field

A number of changes were made in the Home Field during the year. Bro. N. E. Troyer being desirous to be relieved of the work at the Canton, O., Mission, Bro. Otis Johns of Columbiana, O., was appointed Superintendent of the Mission and stationed at that place.

Bro. C. K. Hostettler who had the oversight of the Youngstown Mission for a number of years also made an appeal to be relieved and some one else appointed to take his place. Providence so directed that Bro Amos Swartzendruber of Ontario was secured and appointed as superintendent in his stead. For reasons considered justifiable by the Executive Committee of the Board and others, the Youngstown Mission property has since been disposed of, and Bro. and Sister Swartzendruber have been appointed as missionaries to South America to sail for that country as soon as arrangements can be made.

Bro. H. R. Schertz (at present a member of the Executive Committee) was for several years superintendent of the work at the Home Mission, Chicago, but on account of his relation to the congregations near Metamora, Ill., and for other reasons, considered it the part of wisdom to hand in his resignation as superintendent of said Mission and return to his former home. An appeal was made to Bro. and Sister S. M. Kanagy of Hesston, Kans., to take up the work of which Bro. and Sister Schertz had charge. After prayerful consideration they gave their consent to do so, and their appointment to take the oversight of the mission work in Chicago immediately followed.

At the request of Bro Frank Showalter, he was relieved of the oversight of the Orphanage work at West Liberty, O., and through the Lord's direction Bro. Earl Miller of Middleburg, Ind. was secured and appointed to succeed Bro. Showalter as superintendent of this work.

Bro. C. J. Freyenberger also urgently requested to be relieved of the orphanage work in Kansas City, health conditions being the principal reason. After some correspondence Bro. Earl Hartzler and wife of Limon, Colo., were secured and just recently appointed as superintendent and matron of the work at the Children's Welfare Home in Kansas City.

The various superintendents who have handed in their resignations and have been relieved of their sacred responsibilities as superintendents, were exceptionally faithful in the charges committed to them, and their work was much appreciated both by the Board and those with whom they labored. May the Lord richly bless them for their labors of love, and abundantly bless and prosper the work of those who have been appointed to take their places in carrying on the Lord's work along those special lines.

Even tho, to a certain extent, there has been a shortage of funds and workers, nevertheless much has been accomplished for our Lord and Master in most of the Mission and Charitable Institutions under the auspices of the Board. To Him be the glory.

The India Field

Brother and Sister M. C. Lehman and family have been in America on furlough during the greater part of the year. Their visits among the churches are greatly appreciated, and the mission talks given have been helpful in inspiring the missionary spirit.

Bro. P. A. Friesen and Dr. Florence Coopridier who had last year returned to America on furlough, were later united in marriage, and at the expiration of their furlough and helpful stay in the home-land, recently returned to India to resume their labors for the Master in that land of heathendom. Their visits and work among the churches while with us will long be remembered.

At the time of our last Annual Board Meeting Dr. George Troyer and wife were appointed as missionaries to India. They with their family accompanied Brother Friesen and family to the land of Hinduism. May they prove a valuable asset to the missionary forces in India.

At the close of the year there are twenty-two missionaries on the field in India, and two at home on furlough. Encouraging reports have come to us from the seven Mission Stations and the nine Evangelistic out-stations which have been opened up and established in India. The mission, charitable, educational, medical, industrial, evangelistic and other lines of work which are being carried on by the faithful missionaries in that land of heathen darkness have meant much during the past year in the way of extending and building up Christ's cause and kingdom.

Our hearts were intensely saddened when the report came to us that Bro. M. C. Lapp had been called hence by the grim messenger of death. In his departure to the spirit world the church in India sustained the loss of a noble, faithful and loyal worker, religious leader and Gospel minister. The Church's loss was his eternal gain. Our sympathies and prayers are extended to those who mourn his departure.

III. The South American Field

Brother and Sister J. W. Shank and family are at home at present on furlough. They have brought to us very encouraging reports of the work in that southern land. Bro. Shank has visited a number of the congregations in the middle West giving inspiring messages and helpful information relative to the needs of the field and the work already accomplished in leading souls to Christ for salvation, organizing congregations, and launching out into new fields of labor.

Sisters Selena Gamber and Vera Hallman were appointed as missionaries to South America the past year. They sailed for their field of labor the latter part of August. They arrived at their destination safely and received a hearty welcome. Bro. Amos Swartzendruber and wife, to whose appointment I have previously referred, will sail for Argentina a little later on.

Two new mission stations have been established in Argentina, one at Santa Rosa and another at Carlos Casares, the former being opened up about two years ago and the latter about six months ago. Four regular mission stations have thus far been established, and the Lord has greatly blessed His work at each of these stations.

Ten missionaries are on the field at this present time, two are at home on furlough, and two are under appointment to set sail for that field in the near future. We are encouraged to have fourteen enrolled on the South American missionary list, besides native workers. We trust others may be enrolled in order to meet the needs in that field.

A new church building was erected at Pehuajo, and a property with building was purchased at Trenque Lauquen to accommodate the work at that place. This has added much to the advancement of the work in that field.

We greatly appreciate what has been accomplished for our Lord both in the Home and Foreign Fields thru the instrumentality of His servants, in the way of funds, prayers, and faithful labors. May our prayer be, "Thy kingdom come".

HESSTON COLLEGE AND BIBLE SCHOOL

D. H. Bender

Hesston College and Bible School had its conception and birth in an ardent desire of the brotherhood in the Middle West to have their children educated in a school where Bible, Church, and high Christian standards were made fundamental and consistently maintained. Two leading conferences passed favorably on the movement and the Mennonite Board of Education was asked to locate and open the school. This was done during the summer of 1908, and the next year the school was opened at Hesston, Kansas.

Policy

The policy of the institution from the beginning was to make its work strong and efficient, educationally, in all departments, and at the same time maintain and champion the Bible and the doctrines and practices of the Mennonite Church. This policy is still rigidly supported.

Organization

Hesston College and Bible School was organized under and according to the regulations of the Mennonite Board of Education. This Board elects the heads of the institution, passes on its curriculum, suggests its standards professionally and holds its local board responsible for immediate management. The local board is composed of seven members, and during the fifteen years of the history of the institution only three changes occurred in the membership of this board and two of these were occasioned by death.

Faculty

There are still a few connected with the institution who remember that memorable morning, September 2, 1909, when the bell rang for the first chapel service. On the platform sat the faculty, composed of three regular members and one assistant. This no doubt will appear to many as a very small beginning but to the twenty-one students who had huddled in front of the stand on camp chairs, because our seats had not yet arrived, the spectacle was formidable enough. During the fifteen years that the institution has been in existence the faculty has grown from this small number to thirteen regular members and nine assistants. Although the designation of the office has changed from principal to president there has been no change in the head of the institution nor in the office of business manager.

Attendance

As suggested above the initial enrollment of Hesston College and Bible School was twenty-one. The present enrollment is something over two hundred, and the highest enrollment at any time in the history of the school was about three hundred, including special Bible Term students.

Departments

The institution began with three departments—Academy, Normal, and Bible. Since then there has been added a Bible Academy, Advanced Bible, two years of College and finally a full four year College course leading to the A. B. degree. Vocal music has always been given a prominent place in the institution and is being strengthened year after year.

Graduates

Including those completing any of the four regular courses—Academy,

Bible Academy, Bible, and College, the graduates of the institution now number two hundred and forty. A gratifying characteristic of these graduates is that with a few exceptions all are faithful supporters of the Church and her standards. Among these are bishops, ministers, deacons, city missionaries, rural missionaries, foreign missionaries, superintendents of Church institutions, educators, doctors, farmers—in fact they are found in almost every legitimate walk of life. Nothing affords so much genuine thankfulness as the fact that those going out from the institution are loyal to the highest and best purposes of life. A good old Christian worker once said, "I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in the truth." This is the heart-felt experience of those who are most directly interested and responsible for the work of Hesston College and Bible School.

Grounds

One reason why the Church located its western school at Hesston is because eighty acres of the finest Kansas land was donated for this purpose. Of this eighty-acre tract, twenty acres have been set apart for campus. Besides the buildings, walks, fountains, and entrance arch, mention should be made of the trees. There are now growing on the campus about fifteen hundred trees of various varieties,—evergreens, shade, fruit, ornamental, forest trees, also flowers and shrubbery. These trees attract many birds to the campus and the Audubon Society spares no pains to allure them and protect them. In the spring of the year the place is a veritable bird paradise. The farm is being cultivated and various crops are raised besides supporting a dairy of about a dozen cows. During the past year the embryo of a poultry business was started. It is hoped in the course of time to make this one of the paying features of the institution.

Buildings

When the school was opened fifteen years ago there was one building on the ground nearly completed. The school population moved in without regular seats, furnace, or other necessary furniture and equipment. In this building were not only housed the students but it also served as assembly hall, class rooms, offices, laboratory, kitchen, dining room, and cellar. In 1914 the foundation was laid for the administration building, which was finally completed five years later and was dedicated on January 2, 1919. It is considered a very convenient and suitable building for the purpose intended. With its laboratories in the basement, assembly hall and offices on first floor, recitation rooms and library on second floor, it serves its purpose very well. The library, being lighted by a large central skylight, is it one of the most serviceable of its kind. Besides these two main buildings there will be found on the campus two dwelling houses, one occupied by the farmer and the other by the superintendent of buildings, a laundry, and the foundation for a new dormitory. The latter will be erected just as soon as finances warrant. It required nearly five years to complete the administration building but it was dedicated free of debt, and as the policy of the institution is to avoid indebtedness, the new dormitory may have slow progress toward its completion. But "If we live and the Lord wills" it will finally grace the south end of the campus. On the farm are found a convenient barn and outbuildings.

Finances

The institution was launched with a debt of ten thousand dollars

($10,000.00) hanging over it. In a few years this debt was cleared away through the benevolence of its friends. The institution was able to meet its running expenses from its direct income, except for the first year, until two years ago, when, because of advanced prices and financial depression in the middle west, causing a smaller attendance, it has been unable to pay out. However by the good will and sacrificial efforts on the part of those who are most deeply interested the deficit is being met.

Prospect

What the future holds in store for Hesston College and Bible School is not for us to declare. The standards are established; the spirit of the institution has pervaded the life of its supporters; her purposes and aims are recognized and accepted; the intention is by God's grace to perpetuate the ideals, doctrines, practices, and teachings of Christ and the Church. To this end we pledge our energies and our efforts. To all who are interested in the safe education of our young people we appeal for prayers and support.

THE EASTERN MENNONITE SCHOOL

A. D. Wenger

Location

One hundred miles up the Shenandoah valley from where the Shenandoah River empties into the Potomac, on the eastern slope of a typical Virginia hill and overlooking the town of Harrisonburg, is located the Eastern Mennonite School. At this point the valley is about twelve miles wide. Some places it is wider. The most impressive scene is perhaps the long and towering mountains that bound both sides of the Valley the entire distance, a few hundred miles. Every view of a rising and setting sun carries our sight to mountain tops of the Blue Ridge on the east and the Alleghenies on the west. The school is about fourteen hundred feet above sea level. The highest mountain peak on the east is three thousand feet above while a number to the west are considerably higher. Many students climb for a mountain top view every year. Being high and comparatively dry the climate is healthful. The Luray and a number of other noted caverns, as well as the great Natural Bridge, are within easy reach and are frequently visited. This is the only Mennonite school east of Ohio.

Financial Standing

One year ago there was a debt of over forty-three thousand dollars. At the present time there is very little indebtedness, however contributions for necessary improvements would be highly appreciated. The institution now owns land and buildings that cost nearly one hundred thousand dollars. The property consists of a substantial fire-proof tile building, three stories above basement and fifty by one hundred twenty feet; a few dwelling houses; a barn; a tabernacle; and about thirty acres of valuable land.

Within Easy Reach

The church is strong in some of the Eastern states. More than half of the members of the Mennonite Church, almost twenty thousand in number, live within a day's drive by automobile. Many make a few visits home during the year, the roads being quite good.

History

It is about ten years since the first efforts were made to found an educational institution in the east. It originated in the brotherhood at Denbigh, Virginia, crystalized at Alexandria, Virginia, in the form of a Short Bible Term in the early part of 1915. It was then moved to Assembly Park near Harrisonburg and for two years Short Bible Terms only were held. In the fall of 1917 the school was formally opened for first year academy. Several Bible classes and classes in music were also organized and continued throughout the year. Ever since, the school has gone forward so that now we are doing the work of a Bible School, Academy and Junior College. In keeping with this increased range of usefulness, a competent faculty has been secured. Practical experience, adequate educational training, proficiency in teaching, orthodoxy in the faith and spiritual leadership are qualifications necessary for our teachers. Properly degreed teachers have charge of the advanced secular and Bible work.

Purposes

They are at least seven-fold. First, It is a refuge for our children who want to take, or are compelled by State Law to take, work above the grammar grades when their nearest high school or college is not morally and religiously fit for them. Second, It is a refuge for those who would be compelled to salute the flag and do other things contrary to our convictions. Third, It affords a privilege to study the Bible under teachers of our own faith, that our young people may be soundly taught and held to the Church. Fourth, It is for spiritual benefit to be derived from much Bible study, many devotional meetings, and the uplifting fellowship with many others of like faith. Fifth, It is to have unusual opportunities in taking an extended course in music with a view of aiding the singing in our various congregations. Sixth, It is to train our young people for personal work and for mission work at home and abroad. Seventh, It is to oppose the drift toward the great apostasy which now threatens to engulf the Church.

Finding Abundant Life

A number of students have testified to a deeper, and richer Christian experience. Some even with no such experience have been made happy in Christ. One wayward son who was caught in a pool-room became penitent and is now a faithful worker. His mother said, "I must go to see the institution that did so much for my boy." Another card-playing, pool-room boy has just recently yielded to Christ. Many have confessed wrong deeds and have forsaken them.

Mission Field Near

There is a great mission field near at hand where those who are burdened for the lost may help in the great harvest after they leave school. Some former students are now at work in this field earning their own living by teaching school, and while doing so are exerting a strong Christian influence in the community by a faithful life and by teaching God's Word as they have opportunity. Beginning about eight miles west of the Eastern Mennonite School and extending far westward and northward thru the mountain districts, a number of small congregations have been established. There is now a crying need, for the work is great.

The Greatest Need

It is not a larger library, a more elaborate laboratory, more good seats, more money, more houses and land. While all these improvements would be desirable, we realize that we can do nothing without students. Instead of one hundred and fifty students for the Regular and Special terms, we ought to have several times that number of our young people in attendance to make it abundantly worthwhile for the self-sacrificing efforts of the instructors and the Church that founded and controls the school. The time is at hand when we should unitedly marshal every force to save our young people and the Church. Let us know when we are wrong. Give us better plans. Pray for us. Send us your children and by God's help we will do our best for them.

Harrisonburg, Va.

LIFE FOR CHRIST IN THE MOUNTAINS

Fannie Kurtz

Mountain top experiences are exceedingly refreshing to both soul and body.

The pure air, the ranges of mountains in the distance, and the blue sky overhead, give one a feeling of nearness to God, while in quietness and meditation one's thoughts aspire to a degree rarely attained, while engaged in active life.

While viewing the handiwork of God, and meditating thereon, one is reminded of Peter when he said, "Lord, it is good for us to be here." It is indeed good to be here, altho to remain here is not good. Duty's path lies below us, and once more we descend, to live with our fellowman. Real service is with men, and for men, to point them to God. All good men have a desire within to reach higher ground. In our ambition to do so, may we not overlook the little things, the lowly, the unlovely, these all need Christ.

It is possible that we trample under foot some sweet flower so near at hand, while looking and longing for larger ones beyond our reach.

The workers in this district called Horton, are Bro. Earl Miller and wife, and Bro. Warren Kratz and wife. Both brethren are teaching day school, and are self supporting. They have come here in the interest of church work. Bro. Jasper Smith who lives in a joining district at Job, brings to us the Word of God the first, second, and third Sundays of each month. Bro. Rhine Benner and wife are located at Roaring, a distance of fifteen miles from here.

There are people in these mountain districts who know very little of Christ and His power to save, and whose children are growing up like weeds, idle loafers, without any aim in life whatever, but simply to exist, as did their parents before them, and, too, we have met those in person who have expressed themselves as having no knowledge whatever of God and heaven.

Mission work in the mountains is somewhat a slow process, yet as you view the situation from all sides you will not wonder, as old customs, and evil practices, with ignorance, are handed down from generation to generation and these are not undone in a day.

Among this people are leading men who have some knowledge above the average, who boldly teach a Christless religion, in public places, deceiving the ignorant. Thus the power for evil seems so much greater than the power for good, until one feels small indeed, and thereby made more fully to rely upon a great God whose cause we represent.

We are glad to say there are people among us who respond to the higher and nobler things, who are hungry for the Word of God, and have suffered persecution for the Gospel's sake, who are bringing up their children for God to the best of their knowledge.

There are many children in these mountains, and herein lies our hope. Another joining district has asked, could we conduct a Sunday school for them? to which we replied, our time is fully occupied in the work already begun. It isn't an easy matter to turn down a call for the Gospel since there are so few people who really desire the truth. Since the children are largely the hope in this mountain country, we wish to faithfully sow the seed in these young hearts, and witness for our Master always. Someone has said we are judged by our aspirations, what may seem failure to us, may not be failure with God. "My Word shall not return unto me void" (Isa. 55:11).

"I cannot say,
Beneath the pressure of life's care
today
I joy in these;
But I can say,
That I had rather walk this rugged way
If Him it please."—Browning.

MENNONITE OLD PEOPLE'S HOME

Maugansville, Md.

Benevolence of the Church:

A heavenly virtue of love to mankind in general, accompanied with a desire to promote their happiness, by deeds of kindness, including those duties we owe to others, purely on the ground of sympathy, relief, and comfort. Benevolence manifests itself by a pleasure in the sharing of good, with a disposition to increase it by sacrificing our own comforts for the welfare of those about us.

"There is a reward for the righteous."

"He that pitieth the poor, lendeth to the Lord."

"A good man sheweth favor and lendeth."

The Design

In the closing period of one's life, when friends have passed away; the multitude of years has reduced the vitality, so folks are not able to care for their needs, the mind becomes scattered, loneliness fills their life. There is no one to care for them, no one to visit with, the years pass, leaving but a gloom for them to endure; the Old People's Home is designed to bring to the aged and unfortunate an atmosphere of cheer by religious environment and pleasant association.

What is home with plenty of this world's goods when vitality and friends fail? "Let us do good unto all men especially unto the household of faith." Surely the Church thru her institutions extends to humanity the Spirit of Christ: "I was a stranger and ye took me in."

Its Origin

The Lord put into the minds of some of His people, about five years ago, that a Home for the Aged and unfortunate would be needed in this part of the Lord's vineyard.

The matter was taken up, however not without opposition due to misunderstandings and disorganized world conditions. The Washington Co., Md., and Franklin Co., Pa., Home Mission Board (Inc.) made an appeal to Conference, which considered certain plans essential for such undertaking. Interest continued to grow to such proportions that the Mission Board found themselves responsible to launch said institution; and immediately organized a building committee of four brethren to work with the Executive Committee to carry out the proposed plan.

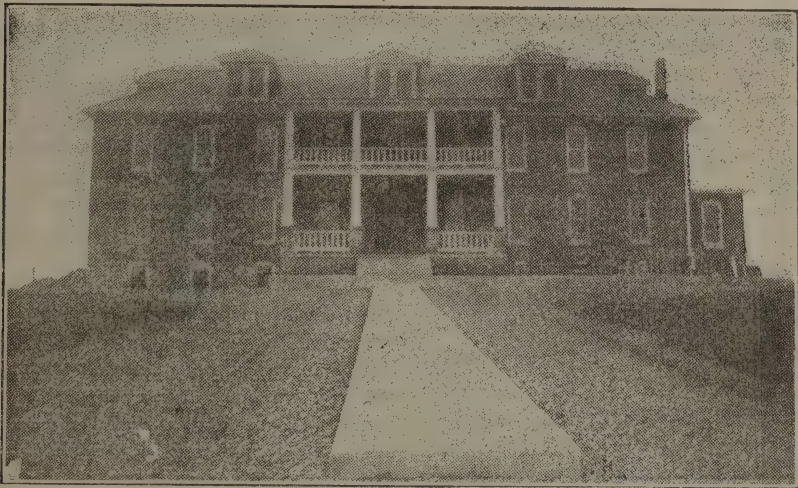

Location

A number of sites were considered, resulting in the choice of four and one half acres one-fourth mile south of Maugansville and 3 miles north-west of Hagerstown. The location is ideal, with proper drainage and elevation, presenting a splendid view of a beautiful sunrise from the picturesque Blue Ridge mountains, as well as a glorious sunset amidst spurs of the Alleghenies; impressing the observer with an active life of service, and the passing beyond the hills of time, to the shores of eternity. The fertile acres of beautiful farms, macadamized roads, and the Penna. R. R. with its sta-and fuel are separately enclosed. The cellar is also separate.

The building proper consists of main entrance hall 8 feet wide leading to the distributing hall which is 6 feet almost the entire length of the building. An enclosed porch at the north leads to the kitchen, which is equipped with double range, food elevator, drain sink lavatory, double cupboard and pantry. The tion in sight, all add to the attractiveness of this location.

Building

During the last week of March, 1923, the stakes were set for the foundation, size 32 feet by 80 feet. By this time the people had a mind to work, the foundation excavated, a concrete wall placed around it, then a brick structure 2 stories with dormer window attic was erected, with double porch entrance, 2 cisterns, one at each end of the building, capacity 320 barrels each, an artesian well 120 feet deep near the door, these are harnessed by compression to supply the Home. The basement is concreted for laundry purposes. The hot water furnace kitchen opens by a swing door into the dining room, which opens by double doors into entrance hall; the reception room with its wardrobe is opposite, at the foot of an open stairway. There are yet 3 double bed-rooms, 2 single rooms, 2 bath rooms, 2 cloak rooms, and a drinking fountain on the first floor. The second floor is subdivided into 3 double bed rooms, 9 single rooms, 1 medical room, 2 baths, and 1 cloak room, and a stairway in the rear leading to the kitchen. The building is furnished with electricity for light and power. A concrete walk extends almost half way around the building and to the public road.

We wish to express our gratitude to all who so liberally subscribed to this cause, and for the many donations in furnishings, etc. May the Lord add His blessing.

Management

The Home was finished, furnished, and occupied by January 1, 1924, when new doors were opened into another church institution, in which the aged pilgrims may be comforted, while waiting until the shadows gather, at the going down of their sun, when they shall enter their haven of rest. The management of the Home has been committed to Bro. and Sister B. E. Stauffer, who enter upon this responsible duty, with the prayers and good wishes of all, which bespeaks a ready response for the support of the work undertaken. Sister Hettie Martin and Sister Susan Strite, the helpers who have been employed, and whose services are appreciated add much to the management becoming a real blessing to all. There are at present nine being cared for, with more to come.

We indeed feel to praise God for the spirit of co-operation and the interest shown in the mind to work; "For the Lord has done great things for us," for which we are glad.

WINNING THE NORTH-WEST

E. S. Hallman

Therefore he said unto them, The harvest truly is great but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.—Luke 10:2.

Thousands of laborers respond to the call of our natural harvests in the northwest but comparatively only a few respond to the call of the Master into this same great spiritual harvest field—but "he that winneth souls is wise."

When Christianity moved northwest from Jerusalem after Pentecost, the movement was brought about by the Spirit's guidance to the Apostle Paul, as the Lord gave him a vision of the Macedonian, praying for Help. Ever since, according to the extent that Christianity obeyed the Macedonian call, the blessings of salvation were enjoyed by nations, not only northwest through Europe, then again northwest through America, but in every direction of the compass having had its beginning at Jerusalem.

This wonderful Gospel of Christ, of the grace of God, which is the power of God unto salvation, was effective by the apostle Peter, to save the Hebrew out of his ritualistic religion, and by the apostle Paul to save the Greek out of his rationalism, a system of culture and philosophy, (which has no uplift to the saving of the soul), yea, this same Gospel which was so effective and successful is the only agency needed to win and save the northwest with its different religions in this cosmopolitan race.

This missionary work in winning the northwest for Christ is not without its difficulties. Besides the native Indian, most of this mixture of peoples moved from the east, or emigrated from Europe, within the last 30 years. In most cases where settlers colonize among Christian people, there seems to be apparent success in church and community life; and in many cases where the same class isolate themselves from church privileges there seems to be failure. To win these, and others who have no religion, is the task of the Church with the Christian religion. What makes the work doubly difficult is that some of the Protestant churches have drifted into Modernism, the greatest menace to the Church, and experience would teach us that it is less difficult to win the unsaved, even the barbarous, than to win those who are imperiled in this apostasy.

But hope gives confidence, that many are being won, through the cross of Christ, which being lifted up, will draw men, women, and children to Himself. One of the successful movements in the northwest is to bring the Word of God the Bible itself to the people of various dialects. This is being largely accomplished by the British and Foreign Bible Society of London, England, with its auxiliaries in every province. The object is to give the Word of God to every one in his or her own mother tongue.

The Mennonite Church, though few in numbers in the northwest, endeavors to let her light shine in this dark land. Our efforts are feeble, but we pray that God will bless our efforts. We hold regular Church, Sunday school and Y. P. M., every Sunday when possible in most of our congregations; besides evangelistic meetings, and the beginning of Bible Schools. Whenever possible we hold preaching services in adjoining school houses. In order that our spiritual life and work might prosper, we endeavor to assist other phases of missionary work abroad. The solution in winning the lost, would be 1st, Prayer. More laborers.

2nd, Consecration. Of our time and means.

3rd, Faith in God and His Word.

4th, Presenting Christ and His claims.

5th, "Quench not the Spirit."

6th, Cooperation. Invite the help of others.

7th, Preach the old time religion, ever new, ever fresh. The faith of our forefathers; the foundation laid, which is Jesus Christ; as presented and interpreted by the Holy Spirit, through the apostles, and heralded by all faithful witnesses throughout all time. May the God of all grace, give us the grace, to give the Gospel of the grace of God in order to win the graceless for whom Christ died.

OUR FORM OF CHURCH GOVERNMENT

By D. H. Bender

We usually think of church government in three distinct forms: Episcopal, Presbyterian, and Congregational. The question is often raised as to which of these three forms of church government is the Mennonite form. As I understand the doctrines and practises of our Church, we do not subscribe absolutely to any one of these three; but our form is, to some extent at least, a combination of these three. We have our bishops who have special obligations and authority and in this respect we are Episcopalian. We have our chosen delegates who compose our Conferences and other legislative bodies and to this extent we are Presbyterian. Our congregations are always taken into consideration when questions of church work are contemplated or decided and in this way we partake of the Congregational form of church government. If I should define our form of church government I would say that it is the Gospel form. We find in the first Christian Church Conference held at Jerusalem that the "apostles and elders" came together to discuss and decide a very important question relative to church doctrine and government. The bishops of Jerusalem suggested the final decision. It was agreed to by the assembled body, and was taken out to the various congregations, and decrees read and given to the members for "to keep." They accepted the same readily. Thus we have to some extent the three forms of government employed in this action of conference.

In this age of the world when modernism, bolshevism, and anarchism are rife in the political world and no one is inclined to submit to authority, we find it difficult at times to prevent this same spirit from manifesting itself in the Church. I wish for a little while to look into the Bible and determine from this wisest of all authorities what attitude a Church should take toward government and recognized authority.

We need to look into nature to see clearly the hand of centralized government. All the planets and heavenly bodies have their laws by which their movements and functions are governed. Should the least one of these at any time refuse to act in accordance with governmental laws there would be as a result a catastrophe, and should all of them follow such a lead there would be entire destruction and chaos. It is the absolute recognition and submission to law and order that keeps the universe in place.

No sooner had God created man than He laid down both positive and negative laws for him to obey. He said, "Be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth and subdue it." He also said of a certain tree in the garden, "Thou shalt not eat of it." He promised blessing for obedience and punishment for disobedience. After God had called out His people from the land of bondage He gave them the decalogue and many other laws by which they were to be governed. We know that certain and awful punishment was meted out to those who rebelled or refused to be governed by these laws.

When Jesus came and founded the Christian Church He at once laid down regulations, rules and laws by which the Church should be governed. For instance, in Matt. 18, the Church is given explicit directions how to deal with transgressors. It is declared that wherein insubmission does not give way to teaching, that person shall be to the Church "as a heathen man and a publican," thus excluding him from the body. In the apostolic Church definite government was established and carried out. Ananias and his wife were both stricken dead because of their transgression. The Corinthian Church leaders were ordered "to purge out" those who leavened the body by their insincerity and to "put away from you" those who were untrue. Instances could be multiplied supporting the Gospel standard of absolute government, even to the point of excommunication in cases of disloyalty and insubmission.

The difficult and trying problem that church leaders have to deal with at this day is, What is to be done with those who transgress or refuse to obey the Church? According to Christ's teaching every effort should be made first to win the unruly. When all these efforts fail there must be absolute discipline and we must purge the Church from the "leaven of wickedness" and "put away" those who refuse to obey and submit. Disciplining should always be done in the right spirit of the Master. A church leader who will use his office and authority as an advantage to himself or to establish his authority and not deal in the spirit of love and with desire to hold and win, is unworthy and unqualified to serve in an official capacity. On the other hand a church leader who will neglect to discipline, because it is an unpleasant and trying work and will allow his congregation, or the Church, to drift away from the doctrines of the Gospel accepted by the Church, or allow sin to remain in the body, is not only disqualified to serve but is both a coward and a traitor to the cause.

The question is sometimes raised as to whether a congregation must always be counseled before an act of church discipline is put into effect. Our conferences have wisely laid the restriction upon the tendencies of church officials to play the tyrant in their congregations. It is usually stated that they are to govern and excommunicate the unruly "by the counsel of the Church." This prevents leaders from using a high hand or conducting church affairs in their own way regardless of the wishes of their congregation. On the other hand, when a bishop or church leader has before him a definite ruling of conference, or a clear statement from the Word with regard to action to be taken, but refuses or neglects to take that action and allows the decision in the matter to rest with a congregation, some of whom may not understand and some of whom are actually rebellious, and then try to justify himself or hide behind such action of the body general, he can only be looked upon in the light of disloyalty or cowardice.

Such church government as practised, taught, and commanded by the Great Founder of the Church deserves definite attention. Its purpose is and should be to keep the Church pure, her doctrines intact, and to save those inclined to drift away or rebel against Divine authority. Drastic action, which means the setting aside of a member or members, should be considered only as a last resort. But if all other measures fail, the last resort must be employed. Let us heed the teaching and admonition of Divine Authority: "Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you" (Heb. 13:17). And "Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly: not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being examples of the flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away" (I Peter 5:2-4).

REPORT OF MEETING OF THE MENNONITE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Held at Scottdale, Pa., Dec. 28, 1923

The seventh meeting of the Mennonite Central Committee was held at Scottdale, Pa. Dec. 28, 1923. The meeting was called to order by the Chairman, P. C. Hiebert, at 11:00 A. M. The following members were present: P. C. Hiebert, J. W. Tschetter, proxy for D. M. Hofer, Allen Yoder, M. H. Kratz, D. N. Cloudon, Orie O. Miller, and Levi Mumaw.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS

Report of Chairman

Dec. 30, 1923.

It has been my good pleasure to keep in close touch with our work in Russia by means of the duplicate letters which are sent to me by our workers abroad. By this means I have been able to keep informed not only of the reports of the local committees to our representatives, the official reports of our field workers, but also the interchange of views among our workers themselves has been kindly laid open to me. Our field workers, as I can infer from these reports, have no easy tasks. In fact often situations arise which require a very close and careful discernment as well as sound judgment. As it seems to me the direction of the work with the tractors and the contemplated disposal of the same, have been the occasion of most worries. We have all reason to be thankful for the workers that we have in the field, as well as reasons to pray for them and provide for their welfare to the best of our ability.

In the second place it has been my privilege to assist in the publicity work for the collection of further relief funds, by reporting at various churches both what I have myself seen and observed on the field of operations a year ago, and also what I could learn from time to time from the reports sent out by our field workers. I have found great interest in the work wherever I have gone. In fact an interest that was followed by a good response until last spring, when the situation suddenly changed, and we were permitted to inform our liberal donors thru our Secretary, that the immediate need was not so great any more as it had been.

As soon as the need in Russia seemed to be getting more and more under our control, suggestions came from various angles requesting a continuation of this work of charity even beyond the work in Russia for which the Mennonite Central Committee was principally organized. These suggestions have crystalized into a movement to organize our Relief Machinery on a more permanent basis and for more general purposes. Upon repeated consultations with various persons of judgment and influence, I pulished thru the papers a general call to our churches and conferences to express their attitude toward such movement as is well known to you.

In response to this call the following conferences have reported favorable action indorsing such a movement: Illinois Central Conference, General Conference Mennonites, Defenceless Mennonites, Pacific District Conference of the Mennonite Brethren, and the Southern District Conference of the Mennonite Brethren. Other conferences have not yet taken up the work, some because their programs were already filled before this consideration was presented and others because they have not yet had a session. From several conferences that have not yet acted favorably, I have the assurance of influential men that the general sympathy is in favor of the movement.

Upon this information I feel justified in suggesting to this committee assembled in which are present three officially appointed representatives for this very purpose, that we take steps toward working out a tentative plan for the organization, in order that we may have something tangible to present to our constituencies when further considerations of this movement are taken under advisement in the various churches or conferences.

P. C. Hiebert, Chairman.

Secretary's Report

December 28, 1923.

At our last meeting held at Chicago, Ill., Dec. 27, 1922, the outlook for Russia was very dark. All predictions pointed towards an increase of famine conditions by the month of March of this year. The American Relief Administration was making strenuous efforts to get additional food into their warehouses in Russia. Alvin J. Miller, director of our work in Russia, called attention to possible conditions and a month later estimated that an additional protection of $140 000 00 worth of food was needed. Within a month later the tables were turned and all predictions were shattered. The famine was broken. Foods that were on their way to Russia were sold on seas and their course diverted to other countries. Readjustments were made in our budgets and a new condition was existing in Russia. Our workers on the field met these new conditions and the work was continued until harvest when it was found that local conditions were such as to enable our Mennonite colonies in Russia to again earn their own bread.

Since that time the attention of the American Mennonite Relief was directed to reconstruction, gathering of the harvest made possible by our tractor program, and during the past three months has given aid to famine stricken Siberia in connection with the work undertaken in Russia proper.

The following American workers are on the field:

Alvin J. Miller, Director in Russia.

Howard C. Yoder, District Supervisor, Alexandrovsk.

Gerhard C. Hiebert, District Supervisor, South Ukraine.

D. R. Hoepfner, District Supervisor Orenburg.

Daniel Schroeder, District Supervisor, Samara.

The following is a roster of the Russian Personnel:

Heinrich Martens, Representative Crimea.

Johann Dyck, Representative Koepental.

Jakob Wittenberg, District Representative, Siberia.

Heinrich Friesen, Assistant Representative Siberia.

Peter Wiens, Assistant Representative, Siberia.

Our budgets for October and November were $5000 00 each and for December $4,000.00 Bro. Miller advised by cable that he will need more later. This will no doubt be governed by the famine conditions in Siberia.

Among the activities in reconstruction is the supplying of the colonies by imported horses made possible by the A. M. R. The tractors are being sold to organizations in the different Mennonite communities on special payment plans. Proposed plans have been submitted to this office in which the colonists agree to pay within three years in yearly payments.

General Relief is given by families rather than by villages as heretofore. This is accomplished through the A. M. R. food packages. The clothing shipments have been received but no deliveries are permitted to individuals of the individual packages sent. It has been found necessary therefore to make a general distribution of all such packages. Only the first lot of packages sent were permitted to be delivered and this was done after agreeing to take out 25% from each package for general distribution. The Mennonite Central Committee acted in good faith in receiving these packages and according to action taken at our regular meeting in May, 1922, assumed no responsibility beyond due care of receipts, transmission, and final distribution. The packages were recorded as received, transmitted with complete records of the donor and to whom sent, but final distribution was impossible on account of objections made by the Russian government.

Many letters of thanks are reaching this office from our fields of operation. Among the latest of these is the resolution passed at the first All-Russian Mennonite Agricultural Union, copies of which have been released to the Mennonite press.

Our further needs will center around the work in Siberia and the general operating expenses in Russia together with the supplemental help given to the neediest in these districts.

Assistant to the Secretary's Report

The work of the Assistant to the Secretary during all of 1923 has again centered about the Immigration end of the Relief.

Early in the year the feeling became very strong that everything possible should be done to move the Russian Mennonite refugees stranded at Constantinople, Batoum, and Lechfeld Germany. Through our office all such who had relatives in the U. S. were put in touch with these relatives and in most cases these sent the financial help to bring these people to the U. S. With the assistance of a special committee appointed by the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, friends were found who were willing to do the same for all others. Through these combined efforts all the Mennonites in above groups have been enabled to come to the U. S. and in most cases are now happily adjusting themselves to their new homes. 208 individuals entered the country in this way since July 1, 1923. About 65 of these came from Lechfeld, Germany, and the rest from Constantinople. Altogether since the be-appeal was duly granted on above date. The Committee still has standing against this group a total of about $2,000.00 for expenses. These debts were due Oct. 1, 1923. Interest bearing notes were required from all who had unpaid balances at that time. Most of these notes have been properly executed.

Many of the immigrants who came later are also obligated to the Committee for help extended them by our offices in Constantinople and Batoum. Efforts are now in progress to properly clarify and distribute these charges. As soon as this work is finished, arrangements will be made ginning of our efforts between 350 and 400 have found a new home in the U. S.

The first group of 62 were still under bond at the beginning of the year. The bond term expired June 1, 1923. Before that time arrangements had been made for the lifting of their debts to the Central Committee. Appeal was therefore made for cancellation of the Bond which with each immigrant concerned for the payment of his debt.

There are still a number of Russian Mennonite Refugees in various parts of Germany begging for the same kind of assistance as was given to the others in the past. Rumors have it that others are on the way to Constantinople or are actually there now. The Eastern Board promises the same kind of assistance for 1924 as that given this year, providing needs of these immigrants and conditions under which they could be brought are the same. The Mennonite Board of Colonization is also interested in this problem. Since present immigration laws are subject to change and the actual present need on the other side not clearly known, it is not yet clear what can or should be done in this work during the year 1924.

Orie O. Miller.

Asst. to the Secretary.

The following resolutions were adopted:

1. That the Chairman appoint an Auditing Committee of three to verify the accounts of the Treasurer before the next regular meeting of the Committee.

2. That we endorse the efforts of our workers in Russia to sell the tractors on hand to the best advantage possible and urge that the work be completed as early as may be expedient and possible.

3. That we encourage our people to aid in raising sufficient funds to meet the needs of the famine stricken sufferers in Siberia (approximately 12,000 souls) as well as to help the needy in Russia according to the budgets suggested by our workers in Russia and that general publicity be given to the requests received from time to time.

The matter of a more permanent relief organization was taken up and discussed. It was found that a few organizations and Conferences had taken action looking forward to an organization of this kind and a plan was adopted whereby the discussions and problems could be continued until such a time as it may be found favorable to definitely organize for such a work.

Levi Mumaw, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE MENNONITE RELIEF COMMISSION FOR WAR SUFFERERS

The work of the Mennonite Relief Commission for War Sufferers has been continued in accordance with the action taken last General Conference and the general outline of policy as given under its Constitution and By-Laws.

The present officers are:

Aaron Loucks, President, Scottdale, Pa.

Eli G. Reist, Vice President, Mount Joy, Pa.

D. D. Miller, Treasurer, Middleburg, Ind.

Levi Mumaw, Secretary, Scottdale, Pa.

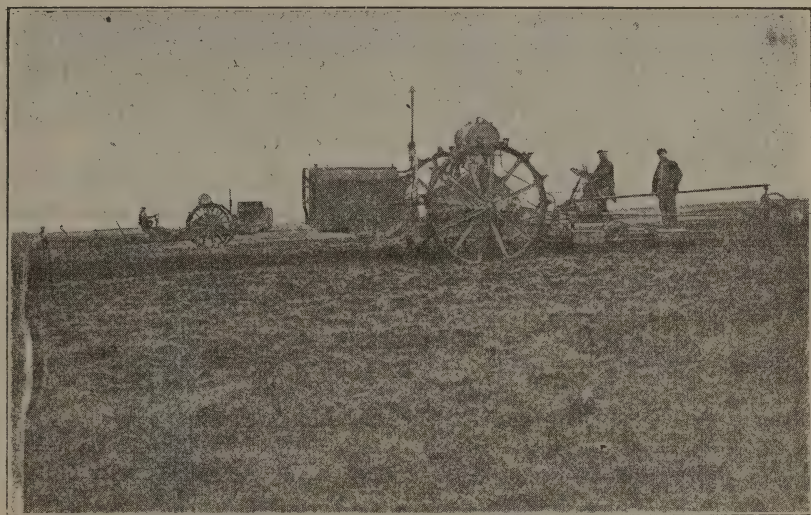

E. L. Frey, Wauseon, Ohio.

The activities have been directed largely to the famine in Russia which was developing very rapidly at the time of our last General Conference and soon became the most widespread and destructive famine reported in years. Some special assistance was given in Germany as well as in the Near East while the Mission Board has directed the work of relief in India.

It is estimated that 11,000,000 lives have been saved in Russia for which over $66,000,000 have been expended thru the administration of American charity in which we have had a part. We found our avenue of service thru the Mennonite Central Committee. The Committee was composed of one member of each Mennonite Relief organization cooperating in the work. In this committee our representative was elected a member of the Executive Committee as Secretary-Treasurer. The work of the Committee was directed largely thru this office under the supervision of the Executive Committee. Thirteen workers entered this field of whom our Commission has supplied five.

Four have returned, one has given his life for the cause and his remains are in the country for which he died, three are on their homeward journey leaving five on the field to direct the work for the coming winter. This report does not include the list of workers who had been stationed at Constantinople of which we had made mention in our report to last General Conference. Eight more workers rendered service at that point of whom all were supplied by our Commission. The work was discontinued in June 1922. Approximately $1,000,000.00 have been expended for this work thru the charity of our Mennonite people of America and Canada as reported to this office. It is quite evident however that this does not represent the entire amount given for the cause. Out of this amount about $310,000.00 has been supplied in money, food and clothing by our Commission including the contributions of the Eastern Mission Board.

In the opening of the work direct in Russia, Bro. Alvin J. Miller succeeded in getting permission to enter the country and arrived in Moscow with the first group of American representatives of Relief organizations. Within a very short time an agree- ment was reached with the Ukranian government permitting our organization to open relief work under the name of American Mennonite Relief, the first organization for this work, and later an agreement with the Russian Soviet Government at Moscow was effected. As this report reached the home office, the American Relief Administration gave us a special invitation to open our work as an affiliated organization with their larger program which was about to be put into operation. This was accepted and the work continued in this manner until June 30 of this year at which date their work ceased in Russia.

The famine has been broken but the following quotation from a report given by the American Relief Administration is of special interest and reveals the true condition as it now faces us. "It is estimated that this harvest will provide food for all, but the other forms of relief—medical, poverty, reconstruction—will no doubt pull upon the heartstrings of charity for many years to come and be an ample field for those who can devote themselves to such work."

During the most severe famine period, the attention of our Committee was directed to the forthcoming reconstruction period as well as for the provision of raising grain in the famine districts rather than face the prospects of continuing our food shipments from America. About $30,000.00 was expended for tractors, plows, trucks, etc. and according to the last reports our harvest made possible by this effort will exceed in value and weight all of the American food shipped into our section during the past two years. The grain is being harvested and the portion reverting to us will be used in portioning to such as have not been able to sow and for other reasons have not been able to gather any grain. Since the most pressing needs are supplied, the tractors are being sold to groups in the communities in which we have been operating and the work of reconstruction will continue, under the direct care of local committees. Fifty American tractors and plows, five American trucks and two American touring cars were used in this service. It is hoped that the entire list will be turned over to local groups this fall. Payment for these to be made in three yearly budgets.

Our group of five workers is instructed to remain on the field for the coming winter and to continue as long as the needs may demand and their services are available subject to the direction of the Mennonite Central Committee. It is hoped however that the work may be closed next year. The expenditures will not be as large as they have been in the past. It is estimated that $2,000.00 to $3,000.00 a month will be required to meet the most urgent forms of relief for the winter. But we cannot predict what the future will bring forth and the task of the Commission remains to meet any emergency that may arise. The work during the past two years was conducted largely in the sections where Mennonites were located and they owe their lives largely to our Mennonite charity. In these sections many others were helped and relief was given without respect to race or religion.

Approximately $25,000.00 have been paid out for relief in the Near East during the past two years by our Commission. Five workers have been on the field in Syria and Turkey. One other was sent out and died soon after reaching his post of duty. His death was caused by an attack of smallpox.

The work in Germany has been continued thru the local organization in that country "Christenpflicht." About $6,000.00 has been forwarded during the past two years. A part of this amount was sent in the form of a loan for the purpose of aiding Russian refugees on a tract of land called Lechfeld, a farm providing homes and employment for a number of families in cultivating the land and raising grain. The needs in this field are increasing because of the economical problems created by the Ruhr invasion and other political difficulties.—Levi Mumaw, Secretary, in Report to General Conference.

MENNONITE GENERAL CONFERENCE

The thirteenth session of the Mennonite General Conference was held at Waterloo, Ontario, August 29-31, 1923.

For a week before the meeting of the General Conference there had been meetings of various boards and committees related to the Conference and under its auspices. The Latschar Church was the scene of the first meeting of this kind, the Publication Board and the General Sunday School Committee holding their sessions at this place.

Besides routine work, several items of more than usual interest were taken up at these meetings. These were brought up in the General Conference later and appear in the general report of the Conference.

A series of meetings was held in four Ontario churches simultaneously, beginning Saturday evening, August 25, and continuing on Sunday afternoon and evening. The general subject in these meetings was "The Fundamentals of Christianity." Crowded house greeted each of these programs. The churches thus used were Kitchener, Breslau, Blenheim, and Latschar. Sunday morning was given to the regular Sunday school and preaching services in the various congregations.

One of the impressive features of these "Fundamentals" meetings was the unity that prevailed regarding the truths of the Bible which we regard as fundamental to the Christian faith. "The faith which was once for all delivered" (Jude 3, R. V.), is not dead, nor obsolete, nor discredited—as some would have us believe—but is a very live and practical faith indeed at the present time.

The forenoons of Monday and Tuesday were occupied by meetings of the Committee of Arrangements of the General Conference, thus leaving the afternoon open to public meetings.

Monday afternoon and evening were taken up by a meeting of the Mennonite Relief Commission in the church at St. Jacobs. The program was interesting, talks were given by the officers of the organization, and much valuable information was thus passed out to others.

The first public meeting in the tent was that of the General Sunday School Committee, on Tuesday afternoon. The evening program was also in charge of the same organization. The tent was crowded at both sessions. The discussions related to various phases of the great work of our Sunday schools and looked hopefully toward an even brighter future than the encouraging past.

The General Conference proper began Wednesday forenoon. The Conference sermon was preached by Bro. D. A. Yoder of Elkhart, Ind., from the text, II Cor. 5:20, 21. The subject was "The work of the Ministry."

The periods between the regular sessions of the conference were generally taken up with committee meetings of various kinds, including the meetings of the Executive and Mission Committees of the Mission Board and the Executive Committee of the Educational Board. Christian Workers' Meetings were conducted on Wednesday and Thursday evenings before the regular evening meeting.

Children's meetings were held on a nearby lawn Thursday and Friday, while the Conference was working in the tent.

As a matter of historical interest, and to assure a permanent record, we reprint in full the following

REPORTS

Report of Historical Committee

Since the last session of General Conference the Historical Committee has had in view the putting into effect of the objects of Committee as approved by the General Conference. In an endeavor to facilitate the work an organization was attempted through correspondence but proved ineffectual without a meeting of the Committee, which meeting was considered impracticable. We suggest to General Conference the appointment of committees at an early session in order to afford opportunity for committees to meet and organize before the close of conference sessions.

Regarding the publication of historical works the committee finds that some research and preparation is required as well as giving attention to authorship, and these important and to other matters of historical value.

Through the recent efforts of the Music Committee there has been stimulated an interest in gathering together the musical literature of the Church.

At a recent meeting of the Historical Committee it was decided that this is not the proper time to publish a general work on Church History, and that the committee should continue to collect data and material, and encourage the efforts of those who are at present working on Church History. In the meantime the items should require the attention of the committee as a whole.

There is a more widespread interest in the Church concerning historical matters. Individuals are giving attention to the history of the Church in states and conference districts, to the general Sunday school history of the Church, repeated calls for a brief Church History should be recognized, and the committee recommends the publication of a concise history of the Church in connection with a statement of her faith and practice, for use in the home. Bible classes, and general distribution. This committee believes that this work should be in a booklet form of about 150 pages.

Historical Committee,
S. F. Coffman, Chairman.

Report of the Librarian of Historical Committee

The library in Scottdale has been catalogued. About 200 books and pamphlets, among them a number of rare old Mennonite works of exceptional value, were added since the last session of General Conference. Among the books secured by Bro. Horsch in Europe are the Froschauer Bible, the first edition of Menno Simons' "Foundation Book," the first edition of Dietrich Philips' works in German, copies of early editions of a Mennonite Ministers' Manual, catechisms and hymn books, Arnold's Unparteiische Kirchen und Ketzer-geschichte, a rare work written by Gerhard Reesen, the author of the first Mennonite Catechism.

John Horsch, Librarian.

Report of Hospital Committee

This Committee, in council with the executive Committee of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, has the following report to present:

The Committee has been at work for four years on the hospital question. By questionnaire and other means we have partly determined the convictions of brethren in the Church, and as reported two years ago, found some sentiment in favor and some against hospital work.

Three main arguments have been presented against hospital work: first, that it is the primary duty of the Church to preach the Gospel of Christ; second, that it will lead our people into worldly associations that will be detrimental to their spiritual welfare; third, that it minimizes the doctrine of divine healing.

Three main arguments have been presented in favor of this work: first, that it is an expression of the Spirit of Christ toward the suffering world; second, that it will enlarge the opportunity of the Church in preaching the Gospel of Christ; third, that it will prepare some of our sisters as nurses for more effective Christian service in the Church.

As a committee we have observed a growing sentiment in the Church in favor of hospital work.

With these convictions presented, we recommend that General Conference define its principles or policy regarding hospital work.

If General Conference is favorable, we recommend that it authorize the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities to proceed with the establishing of a hospital as the Lord directs.

Committee,

Allen H. Erb, Chairman.

The Resolutions Committee present the following which was approved:

Resolved, That this Conference look with favor upon every effort to relieve human sufferings and to prepare our young people for faithful service; provided that after mature consideration such efforts will be found practical and nothing about them that will lead to unscriptural entanglements.

Since the question of building hospitals naturally belongs to our Mission Board, we refer this work to the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities with the assurance that if, after careful consideration, that body decides to go ahead with the enterprise, it shall have our support and prayers.

Adopted.

Since this matter was turned over to the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, the committee appointed by General Conference was relieved.

Educational Problems Committee Report

At a meeting of this committee the following problems were noted:

1. How hold the young people in our Church schools?
2. The need of a strong, centrally located institution in the Church.

3. Financing our educational institutions.
4. The menace of modernism.
5. How may our Church schools lead our young people to become loyal exponents of the faith?
6. The high school problems.
 - a. Athletics,
 - b. Modern fads.
 - c. Erroneous teaching.
 - d. Compulsory attendance.
 - e. The social question.
7. The proper viewpoint of higher education for our people.
 - a. The need of higher education.
 - b. Lurking dangers.
 - c. Advantages and disadvantages of higher degrees in education.
 - d. Training for religious work.

The Committee presents the following recommendations:

1. That our young people be urged to attend only our own approved Church schools wherever that is possible.
2. That the Mennonite Board of Education be placed in the same relation to the General Conference as the other general Church boards, so that all our powers may be enlisted in solving the important educational problems of the Church.
3. That our Church periodicals constantly keep before the minds of our young people the importance of acquiring an education under proper influences, and the dangers of attending institutions of learning that are fundamentally unsound.
4. That due efforts be made along economical lines to conduct our institutions of learning as nearly as possible on a selfsupporting basis and that our people support our schools with their influence, prayers, and means in a faithful effort to make our Church schools serve their true purpose.

5. That in the organization of our Church schools only such officials and teachers be chosen as are sound in the faith, that the fundamental and distinctive doctrines of the Church be given a place in the curriculum, and along with the general training such an atmosphere be maintained and influence be brought to bear on the students as to produce true exponents of the faith and loyal supporters of the Church.

6. That parents make every effort to safeguard their children against dangerous tendencies in our common and high schools—such as erroneous teachings, over-emphasizing athletics, modern fads, and social and moral evils.

Report was accepted and Committee retained. The recommendations were adopted.

A WORKER GONE HOME

On May 31, 1923, passed from earth to glory one of God's faithful witnesses in a land of heathendom and idolatry. Mahlon C. Lapp had entered the service of the Lord in the American Mennonite Mission in India in 1901 with his faithful companion, Sarah (Hahn) Lapp, and from that time on India was home to them.

It was the writer's privilege to be closely associated with Bro. Lapp during the early days of his Indian experience. The new station at Rudri had just been acquired and the work of building was going on. No house suitable for a European to live in was on the ground, and the trip to and from Dhamtari (Sundarganj) had to be made daily.

We constructed for the trip a little cart with an elevated seat (but no springs), and on this, with oxen for motive power and a native driver, we used to go back and forth.

Needless to say that with the intimate association and the constant consultation about problems that we met, we became well acquainted.

Mahlon was not highly educated in books, but he had the far more practical education—acquaintance with human nature, and above all an intimate knowledge, at first hand, of God. At first we had to interpret for him. But he was not in the country long until he had a more intimate knowledge of the local dialect of the people than any other of the missionaries. What is more, he knew and understood the people, into the counsel of the government officers with whom we had to do from time to time. His knowledge of the native people made his advice of great value to officials, and his counsel was often sought.

On one occasion, when all other means seemed hopeless, Bro. Lapp was called to the bedside of the king of Kanker, a kingdom some forty miles south of the Mission home, and he remained by the king night and day, attended him, nursed him thru his sickness, and won a warm place in the affection of the patient. The influence of that visit their likes and dislikes, their strong qualities and their weaknesses.

M. C. and Sarah Lapp and Indian Helpers

Having had a good deal of practical knowledge of medicine and nursing, and his wife having had training as a nurse, it was quite natural that he should be much used in medical work in a land where help of this kind was so much needed.

His early life had thrown him much into the society of men of all grades and culture, from the western cowboy to the United States senator, and it was natural for him to enter was not over with the king's recovery. Eternity alone will reveal what his work during those two weeks meant.

Bro. and Sister Lapp spent two short furloughs in America. They were much used of the Lord in presenting the needs of India to the home Church. God blessed the ministry of Bro. Lapp here as in India.

One of the most thrilling experiences in India, a land where thrilling experiences are, perhaps, more common than in most countries, was that night Mahlon Lapp and I met the mad jackal in the Sundarganj compound—he more than I. Jackals are something like the coyote of the western prairies. When they are afflicted with rabies they are more dangerous than a mad dog, and their bite is more deadly.

On this particular night in the rainy season of 1906, a jackal thus afflicted came into the compound about one-thirty in the morning and bit two of the orphanage girls. Hearing their screams, Bro. Lapp went to investigate and was himself bitten. Summoned by telephone, I went to his help and together we hunted, found, and shot the rabid creature. We shot at the same instant and no one will ever know whose shot killed the beast, but the moment the smoke cleared a bit his clear eyes saw the animal down and his voice rang out, "Praise the Lord! The jackal's killed."

The three bitten patients went to Kasauli, far up on the Himalayas, for the Pasteur treatment. It was hard on Mahlon, as his heart action, at that time even, was rather sluggish. But he apparently fully recovered and spent many years afterward in the Lord's service in India.

His last months of life were months of suffering but were spent in patient endurance. His memory lives most vividly in the hearts and lives of those whom he helped and befriended. May his example prove an inspiration to many who seek to follow in the footsteps of the Master.

HELPING RUSSIANS

A movement from Russia to Canada is in progress, the extent and value of which we can scarcely realize. Nearly 3000 persons have already come over from Russia under the auspices of the Canadian Mennonite Board of Colonization, cooperating with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, since August, 1923, and 4000 more are ready now to come just as soon as the way opens for them.

As they come homes are opened up for the new arrivals, and they will be temporarily housed and fed free of charge this winter or until other arrangements can be made for them. The colonists are sifted by the Canadian authorities in Europe, so that none but those who will make desirable citizens in the great Northwest will be among those who come. Before the war they were prosperous and happy. Changed conditions have reduced them to the extremity of poverty and they see no opportunity to recover their fortunes in Russia.

The immigrants consider the repayment of the money advanced to them for their passage to Canada as their first obligation, and there is no doubt that they will soon be able to make this obligation good, if they are given an opportunity to make a living for themselves. But in the mean time the money for the passage of this first 3000 will have to be advanced to the transportation company from some source, and the manner of meeting this expense will determine to a large extent the fate of the 4000 now waiting in Europe.

It costs an average of $150.00 each to bring these colonists from Europe to Canada. It will be seen that it will take about $450,000.00 to pay the passage of those already here. To bring those waiting now will take $600,000.00 more—a total of over a million dollars.

These figures startle us, and a few years ago we should have said with a tone of utter finality, "Impossible!" But our experience in the recent past shows us that it not only can be done, but the spirit with which our people have grappled with such problems in the past assures us that it will be done.

Those who arrived last summer in the beginning of harvest went to work and have already paid $50,000 toward their own passage money. Give them a chance!

Upon the Mennonite churches of North America rests the responsibility for determining the fate of these thousands who are ready and willing to make good and only ask for the opportunity. They are human souls worth the saving.

OUR OBLIGATIONS TO THOSE ABOUT US

We owe other people service. Service goes with loving. We cannot love truly and not serve. Love without serving is but an empty sentiment, a poor mockery. God so loved the world that He gave. Love always gives. This matter of serving has multitudinous forms. Sometimes it is poverty that stands at our gate, and money help wanted. A thousand times more frequently it is not money, but something else more precious that we must give. It may be loving sympathy, Sorrow is before us. Another's heart is breaking. Money would be of no use; it would be only a bitter mockery to offer it. But we can hold to the neighbor's lips a cup of wine of love, filled out of our own heart, which will give new strength to the sufferer. Or it is the anguish of a life struggle, a human Gethsemane, beside which we are called to watch? We can give no actual aid—the soul must fight its battles alone: but we can do as the angels that ministered to our Lord's Gethsemane, imparting strength and helping the weary struggler to win the victory.

The world is very full of sorrow and trial, and we can not live among our fellow-men and be true without sharing their loads. If we are happy we must hold the lamp of our happiness so that its beams will fall upon the shadowed heart. If we have no burden, it is our duty to put our shoulders under the load of others. Selfishness must die, or else our own heart's life must be frozen within us. We soon learn that we can not live for ourselves and be Christians; that the blessings that are given to us are really for other people; and that we are only God's ministers to carry them in Christ's name to those for whom they are intended.—The Herald of Light.

THE BEAUTY OF THE BIBLE

There are no stories so beautiful, so wonderful, so interesting as the Bible stories. There is no book in which we find such grand and touching poetry, such terse and deep sayings. Here is something for every one—the soldier, who likes to read of battles; the sailor, who likes to read of storms and shipwrecks; the lover of nature, who likes descriptions of scenery and of the glories of creation; the philosopher, who likes to study the anatomy of the human heart; the sorrowful, the weak, the sick, the aged, the dying, all find here food for their minds and comfort for their souls.—Adolph Saphir.

The good Samaritan knew how to be polite, and his act of kindness to a national enemy has helped many since that time to appreciate its worth. The priest and Levite forgot that they were not absolutely secure from a similar condition. The spirit of independence makes men blind to their own helplessness.—Our Boys and Girls.

Do You Want To Make A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT?

The above illustration represents the new building accommodating the plant and offices of the Mennonite Publishing House directed and controlled by the Mennonite Publication Board for the purpose of publishing and disseminating of Christian literature.

Many have already taken advantage of making an investment with the institution and eternity alone will reveal the final results of these considerations. Every Christian home recognizes the need of good literature. Will you help to supply it? Please note the following forms which are now being offered.

1. Donations. Past records will show that the money given for this cause has increased in value three-fold while it has been possible to supply our homes with religious literature and at the same time make direct contributions to our mission stations, charitable institutions, and educational work. Every home that has been touched by our periodicals has been benefited in one way or another.

2. Annuities. Five and Six percent cash annuities are offered to any one wishing to place $100.00 or more. By this method the donor will receive the interest semi-annually in cash during his natural lifetime. The Gospel Herald and Christian Monitor Annuities are also offered thru which the equivalent of five percent is realized during a natural life time in the form of the periodicals. A mutual arrangement which is helpful both to the institution as well as to the annuitant.

3. Loans. The Mennonite Publication Board has assumed responsibility of providing $50,000.00 of the cost of the building. A part of this amount will be provided thru direct loans at a rate of interest as may be determined not to exceed six per cent per annum. A splendid opportunity to those who may have money available for this purpose. Interest payments are made promptly when due and the principal can be used for a period ranging from one to five years. Thirty days notice is required before withdrawal at interest paying periods.

Mennonites in the World War

Or Nonresistance under Test.

By J. S. Hartzler under the direction of a committee appointed by Mennonite General Conference. This book sets forth the peace principles of the Mennonite Church as taught at all times and practiced in time of war. It contains a narrative of events during the World War bearing on the doctrine of Nonresistance, setting forth the trials, testimonies, etc., of those whose conscience constrained them to a faithful adherence to the peace principles of the Prince of Peace.
